Still seized

Moonshine, marijuana confiscated in county

BY LIZ HAAS

Mississippi Highway Patrol air surveillance led Hancock County officers in the seizure of an illegal whiskey still and 510 marijuana plants Thursday.

WHISKEY STILL

During a routine air surveillance for marijuana plants, the Criminal Investigation Bureau of the Highway Patrol spotted a whiskey still in the Catahoula Community off Highway 43 around noon, according to Sheriff Ronnie Peterson.

Berlon Kelly Ncaise, 42, of Catahoula was apprehended by patrol officers on the scene, Peterson reported.

Ncaise was arrested and charged with possession of a whiskey still and possession of non-tax paid whiskey.

The Sheriff's Office turned the 4-barrel still over to Alcohol Beverage Control (ABC) agents Mark Smith and Randy Pierce who destroyed it with axes.

Operating a still is a misdemeanor in Hancock County, a wet county, and a felony in a dry county. After July 1 it will be a felony state-wide, according to agent Smith.

Operating a still is considered a tax violation because the person does not have a permit to manufacture and does not pay taxes on the whiskey.

Ncaise was released Thursday on a $1,000 bond and is awaiting a hearing in Justice Court.

"Years ago there were a lot of whiskey stills in the county, but they are phasing out," said Smith. "However, moonshine still exists in the state of Mississippi."

On the scene were investigators Matt Karl, Nathan Hoda, Sergeant George Burleson and Deputy James Ladner.

The ABC is conducting an

Ward 4 runoff Tues.

Ward 4 voters in Bay St. Louis will select a councilman to represent them for the next four years in Tuesday's runoff election.

Political newcomer Tad Black led the Democratic primary field of four candidates, followed by incumbent John Wilkerson. The race was the only one in the municipal election to result in a runoff.

Voting will be at Christ Episcopal's Virginia Hall from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. There are a total of 2,021 registered voters in Ward 4.

Gaming lawsuit compromise rejected by state commission

A proposed settlement with attorneys for Terry Ladner, concerning the opening of a casino in Bayou Caddy, was rejected by the state Gaming Commission Monday.

Details of the proposal were not disclosed, but along with Ladner's attorneys, representatives of Royal Casino Inc. and the Harrison County School Board were present.

Commission members voted unanimously against the settlement which would have resulted in opening casino gambling beyond the Mississippi Sound and larger bays.

Harrison County School Board has given Royal Casino an option on 90 acres of school property along Bayou Bernard on the northeast corner of I-10 and U.S. 49.

Bayou Caddy businessman Terry Ladner filed a suit against the state after being denied approval for a casino.

A ruling on the lawsuit by District 2 Circuit Court Judge James Thomas overturned a

New road would help casino traffic

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

A proposed extension of Casino Magic Drive, diverting traffic from Blue Meadow Road, is in the works according to Len Giaconi, public relations director for Mardi Gras Casino Inc.

Giaconi said Casino Magic is speaking with property owners concerning the purchase of the land needed for the new entrance.

The proposed four-lane road will meet Highway 90 near the former Whitfield Furniture Company building, winding northeast and across Blue Meadow Road at Casino Magic Drive.

"The road should eliminate the majority of traffic on Blue Meadow Road," Giaconi commented.

He added that Mardi Gras Casino Inc. received a positive response from Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre and state highway department commissioner Ronnie Shows on the proposal.

Giaconi stated the casino's intent is to answer traffic congestion and safety concerns of the citizens.

Specific routing between the connecting highway and Casino Magic Drive is dependent upon the completion of land purchases.

Largest dockside

Casino Magic president and CEO Marlin Torguson, right, and Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre cut the ribbon Saturday to officially open Magic, Too. Casino Magic is now the largest full service casino between Las Vegas and Atlantic City and the largest dockside casino development in the world. Director of marketing Jeana J. Rustand christened the Magic, Too, following the ribbon cutting to open the new gaming vessel. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

All-white jury leads to Terry appeal

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Waveland resident Alton James Terry, found guilty Wednesday of manslaughter by an all-white jury in the death of his girlfriend's 17-month-old baby, will appeal the conviction on the grounds of technical errors raised and lack of race representation on the jury.

Terry, 17, was tried as an adult and sentenced to 20 years in Mississippi Penitentiary at Parchman. He will be eligible for parole after 5 years.

Terry's court-appointed attorney, Nicholas Haas, reported during jury selection four blacks were dismissed.

"One had a charge pending...one knew relatives of the defendant...another heard something of the case...and one was struck by the state, for what I don't remember offhand, but it was an adequate reason."

Haas said the lack of black representation on the jury will be a point in the appeal.

"A person is entitled to be judged by his peers," he commented. "We made a motion for a dismissal of the jury and selection of a new pool early on, but it was rejected."

The jury of six men and six women deliberated for approximately one hour prior to returning the guilty verdict.

Haas presented no defense during the trial, claiming to have no evidence differing from that offered by the state.

Assistant District Attorney Charles Woods called five witnesses, including the defendant's mother, Mary Terry, Tanya George, 21, mother of the deceased baby, and mother to Terry's 2-month-old son, Alton Terry Jr.

Junell Lynell George was found dead by her mother around noon August 25 in the

Port and harbor commission eyes water system problems

BY LIZ HAAS

Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission engineer Carlos Cordon addressed the board Monday on the re-occurring problem with the Stennis water system coliform count that leaves the water undrinkable.

The Stennis International Airport and Industrial Park water system was issued a water contamination violation in April.

Notices were issued to users and fire hydrants were flushed often to lower the level, in addition to other methods used.

The Environmental Protection Agency has determined that the presence of total coliform is a possible health concern.

When present in drinking water, total coliform is often an indication that there may be problems with water treatment or pipes that carry water.

Total coliform is generally not harmful, but the presence indicates water may be contaminated with organisms that can cause disease.

Zoe Bretzius-Bowers, head of treatment plant maintenance, reported May's water sample readings were clear.

"The problem is that there are not enough users," said Cordon. "We have a water tank that holds 250,000 gallons of water and only about 3,000 to 4,000 gallons are used per day."

"The problem is that there are not enough users."

—Cordon

He said the chlorinated water fills the tank, sits there and loses its chlorination.

The problem with getting rid of the tank is that it is our fire protection system and it's also a $1 million facility, according to Cordon.

"Our solution is to treat the water when it leaves the tank for use, to chlorinate it on its way from the water tank to the system," said Cordon.

He said this will require pipework, a new chlorine system and will cost close to $10,000.

Commission president David McDonald appointed a Utilities Committee, made up of

St. Paul recital features Dale

Renowned organist Bradford Dale of Cincinnati, Ohio, will appear in concert on Sunday, May 16, at St. Paul Catholic Church, 140 East Beach Boulevard in Pass Christian.

The recital program is a part of the official dedication of the church's new custom instrument, built by Associated Organ Builders of Auburn, Washington, and installed last December. The 3 p.m. program is free and open to the public.

Additionally, Dale will conduct an organ workshop for interested musicians on Saturday, May 15 at 10 a.m. at the church. Reservations for the free event should be made by calling the church office at 452-4686 in order for adequate workshop materials to be available for all attendees.

The recital program will include works by Bach, Mendelssohn, Mozart, Handel and others, as well as Dale's own composition, "First Organ Symphony."

A former resident of Pensacola, Dale has studied extensively since childhood as the child of musician parents. His studies have taken him to The Netherlands, where he performed on the famous 118-rank Christoff Muller Organ, built in 1738 and played by both Handel and Mozart.

His musical training has been guided by such teachers as Harold Rohling of Huntingdon College in Montgomery, Ala.; Claudia Faulk of the Chicago Conservatory; Louis Toebosch of Sweelinck Conservatory in Amsterdam; and internationally-renowned composer, Paul Manz.

Dale is currently organist for St. Michaels and All Angels Episcopal and for the Tridentine Latin Congregation of St. Monica, St. George Catholic Church, both of Cincinnati.

Joby, the one we love, on your 20th birthday we would like to give you so many things on your birthday.

A love... that lasts and lasts.
 A love... that every day is remembered more meaningful, with all the joys and warm memories of you.

We wish we were together today, to tell you in person how important this day is in all our lives.

Even though we're apart, those special feelings of love and memories help us feel close. Time keeps passing, but the emptiness is there.

Our hearts have not mended from the grief we still share. We miss you just as yesterday and well on through tomorrow.

No one can really understand how very deep our sorrow. It is a never ending grief of which we must bear.

We think of you, dream of you, and know that we'll be together again.

Remembering and sadly missed

I wonder whatever happened to the love we had. Nothing ever was. He left me alone and the next time I will see him it will be even in heaven. I will see him all I can. Love, Mommy and Daddy.

investigation with the assistance of the Sheriff's Office.

MARIJUANA

Later Thursday, at 3 p.m., the air surveillance team led the Sheriff's deputies and Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics agents to the location of 510 marijuana plants in Pearlington, according to Sheriff's Investigator Glen Strong, director of the Narcotics Task Force.

"A suspect, Gary Carver, 50, of Pearlington, is being sought in connection with the illegal growing and cultivating of the marijuana," said Strong.

Strong, in charge of the investigation, was assisted by investigators Matt Karl and Nathan Hoda, deputies Kenney Hurt, Barry Hoda and Terry Robinson in addition to agents from the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics and the Highway Patrol.

Amar Street house of Mary Terry where the couple lived.

Both women testified to Terry once losing his temper and punching a hole in a bedroom wall, though he was not angry at either of them or the children.

They also stated, Junell had a habit of rocking her brother's cradle and pulling at him through the cradle bars.

Along with the two women, Woods called county health nurse Anita Lott, Waveland police investigator David Stepro and forensic pathologist Dr. Paul McGarry of New Orleans.

The jury listened to audio tapes of police interviews with Terry which changed from denial of having touched the infant to admitting to having hit her in the head to stop her from rocking Alton Jr. in his cradle.

Stepro testified that during questioning, Terry said he may have hit the child harder than he knew.

Terry also stated during police questioning that the baby hit her head against a wall while he wrestled in play with the child either the night before or the morning of her death.

McGarry testified that George died of a ruptured liver, had sustained a 4-inch skull fracture, and had bruises on her forehead.

Haas commented that in Hancock County the population of blacks is about 15 to 20 percent.

Circuit Clerk Pamela Metzler reported jury selections are made by computer. "The computer doesn't know someone's race. People do not register by race."

"This is a small community," she commented. "The ratio of blacks to whites is low."

commissioners Joe McCullough, Bud Frierson and Omer DeBever, to meet with Cordon and Bretzius-Bowers to review their recommendations to present to the commission.

The commission passed a resolution to accept a Federal Aviation Administration grant of $104,000, to be matched by 10 percent ($10,400) from the commission bringing the total allocation to $120,000 for airport improvements.

The grant, awarded last week, is to install signs on the runway and taxiways and to install fencing.

The commission approved to accept Cortech Inc. to do the layout work for the project, and to instruct the airport committee to meet with Cordon to make plans and specifications for the work.

Commissioner Pete Beebe, airport chairman, reported Casino Magic is contributing $5,700 per month over the next six months to the commission for security expenses at Stennis Airport to ease the burden off the commission to pay for security.

"At the end of the six months, we will review that figure and work from there," said Beebe.

Olsen requested the board allow the airport committee to pursue an airport revitalization program, an option for funding.

"It's a loan program for airport improvements, with the maximum amount at $500,000," said Olsen. "And we want the O.K. to look further into this."

The airport committee was given the approval by the commission.

The commission approved: —to pass a resolution to authorize the payment of $54,999, payment request one, to Necaise Construction on Port Bienville infrastructure work;

—to sign a one-year lease with Phillips Aviation, effective June 1;

—general operating, railroad operating, industrial park revenue, railroad car wash, t-hanger facility, terminal, rental facilities, port and harbor construction, and Stennis International Airport Revenue claims dockets.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

This message is for the Bay St. Louis Ward 4 qualified electors.

Tuesday the residents of Ward 4 will go to the polls and elect a Councilman to serve their section of the city for the next four years.

Two weeks ago, of the people seeking the position only two are left in the race.

Since the other positions have been selected, I hope that each one of you in Ward 4, who are qualified to vote, will make every effort to go to the polls and vote for the candidate of your choice.

Remember, every vote does count.

Two years ago, in a Hancock County Board of Supervisors race, the outcome was settled by a one-vote margin.

Six years ago, in another supervisors race, it was also settled by one vote.

Twenty or so years ago, a Waveland Alderman was elected by a one-vote margin.

Urge and encourage also your neighbors to vote Tuesday.

It is hard to believe that the test site has been in Hancock County for 30 years.

The first tree cutting was on May 17, 1963, and this was the beginning of the construction of the test site which has been very instrumental in placing America in space.

On Friday May 21, the John C. Stennis Space Center will host its sixth annual reunion of alumni beginning at 4 p.m. at the Cypress House Pavillion.

Bay St. Louis resident and United States Congressman Gene Taylor will be the special honoree and guest speaker.

Plaques will be presented to "old timers" who, upon retirement this past year, had completed 20 or more years of service at Stennis. Certificates will be given to retirees with 10 or more years of service.

Max Herring, Stennis historian, who probably got there before work even began, reports this is to be the biggest alumni celebration ever.

The celebration will be a reunion of all the Stennis personnel. It will be free for retirees with over 20 years and employees with over 20 years of service and a $3 fee for other employees.

Crawfish, hot dogs, hamburgers and beverages will be served at the pavillion following the ceremonies.

Those seeking further information or to make reservations can call Cindy Kenny at 688-1135.

I am hoping everyone will have a good time at the reunion.

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator Trent Lott

Lobbying disclosure

The ethics of the lobbying process was one of many issues that surfaced during the recent presidential election. The Senate recently addressed this issue with the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1993. This legislation is designed to reform current disclosure laws and to create uniform rules and regulations on those lobbying any branch of government.

The legislation would provide for greater disclosure by lobbyists paid to influence federal legislative or executive branch officials on government actions.

This bill would replace a variety of varying lobbying laws with a single statute designed to cover all professional lobbyists. This would help to streamline disclosure requirements, create a system to administer and enforce such requirements, and make the information more accessible to the public.

Lobbyists should have to disclose who they are, who they're lobbying and what issue they're lobbying. Openness is the key, and the American people should have access to all this information.

Lobbying is not and should not be a clandestine operation. I believe that individuals and groups have a Constitutional right to try to impact government actions, but no one should be able to hide their efforts.

This legislation makes a good attempt to reform existing lobbying laws to make the process more open and up front.

An added plus of this bill is that it would also simplify the process. It's good when government can work to resolve a problem and, at the same time, streamline multiple rules and regulations to make the system more effective and equitable.

Disclosure reform can help to improve public confidence in government because it requires professional lobbyists to register and file regular, semi-annual reports that identify their clients and the issues they lobby.

The legislation would establish a new Office of Lobbying Registration and Public Disclosure within the Department of Justice to enforce the act and monitor lobbying activity. In other words, to keep it honest. The Office of Lobbying would have authority to assess monetary penalties on groups that fail to comply with the rules.

While lobbying has been a part of our system of government since its inception, lobbyists should have to disclose their intentions. Disclosure and understandable rules is the way to go.

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

Judicial job-filling process gets into gear

Ever since the Clinton Administration was installed in Washington over three months ago, a lot of people have been waiting for the first shoe to drop on how the Democrats are going to dispense federal judicial patronage in Mississippi after Republican control the past 12 years.

The prime jobs that are supposed to be filled in the first round of federal judiciary appointments are the U.S. Attorney slots for both the Southern and Northern federal court districts. Along with them are the U.S. Marshal job in both districts.

It's been more than a month since a judicial nominating committee created by Clinton's state campaign co-chairmen sent to Washington a list of three recommendations for the United States attorney spots in both the Southern and Northern federal court districts as well as for U.S. marshals in both districts.

There are rumblings the Clinton Administration is finally going to make a move next week to get the judicial job-filling process in gear, at least to begin the formal FBI background checks that must be done before any nominations come down from the White House.

The first to be replaced, it appears almost certain, will be veteran U.S. Attorney George Phillips in the Southern federal court district, and U.S. Attorney Robert Whitwell in the Northern district.

Actually, Whitwell has already resigned to President Clinton and gotten out of the way, knowing that as a George Bush appointee of only two years duration he was highly expendable.

But Phillips, who clings to the fact that he was originally appointed during the last year of the Jimmy Carter Administration in 1980, but reappointed twice by Ronald Reagan and permitted to remain in office by Bush, is scrambling desperately to hang on in the Clinton era. He apparently has the backing of some black leaders and also Clarksdale attorney Walter Thompson, who was Clinton's Mississippi fund raiser.

Phillips is the longest-serving U.S. attorney in the country, a fact that came into play during the Bush Administration when the president wanted all federal attorneys who had served two four-year terms to be replaced. Somehow, U.S. Sen. Thad Cochran managed to keep the Bush people off Phillips' neck, and he served even with a Bush reappointment.

The record of the Phillips tenure is impressive in the prosecution of public corruption during the 80s when five dozen county supervisors were sent to the federal penitentiary, along with two state highway commissioners and two members of the Mississippi Public Service Commission.

But Phillips did not personally do the courtroom prosecution. It was his top assistant for criminal prosecution, James Tucker, who compiled the remarkable string of public integrity convictions.

Now, the feeling among most leading Mississippi Democrats who were staunch Clinton backers is that Phillips has always "protected" certain public officials in his own political interest and needs to go. In fact, Phillips is not among the list of those who have been recommended by the nominating panel of five lawyers picked by former Gov. William Winter and Secretary of Agriculture Mike Espy, the 1992 Clinton co-chairmen.

Believed to be front-runner on their list is Brad Pigott, a 38-year-old Jackson attorney, and McComb native whose primary experience is in civil law. Pigott is now deeply involved in representing a group of school districts in overturning the 60 percent requirement for school bond issues on grounds it is racially discriminatory.

For the Northern federal district attorneyship, the apparent favorite to get the job is Victor McTeer, the colorful civil rights attorney from Greenville, who is black. Originally from Maryland, McTeer first came to the state as a law student in the early 1970s, and later began an extensive practice in voting rights cases.

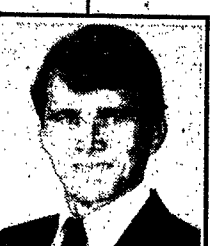

Reportedly, David Crews, of Oxford, one of former Gov. Winter's top administrative assistants during his 1980-94 term, is the leading candidate to get the U.S. Marshal job in the Northern district. In the Southern district, Nancy Boland, who formerly was associated with the Mississippi Highway Patrol's Law Enforcement Officers Academy, is believed a front-runner for the marshal's job.

Sunbelt Caucus introduces legislation to enhance Gulf

The Gulf of Mexico is an economic and environmental cornerstone for Mississippi and the four other states that border it. The Gulf provides critical habitat for large populations of fish and waterfowl. Offshore oil and gas revenue generated in the Gulf is second only to revenue from federal income tax.

And nearly half of all U.S. shipping tonnage passes through Gulf ports each year. Furthermore, it is estimated that the Gulf states contribute $20 billion to the U.S. economy through tourism related activities, drawing in millions of sport fishermen and beach users annually.

It doesn't take long to discover how important the Gulf of Mexico is to Mississippi and our region of the nation. Because of this importance, members of the Congressional Sunbelt Caucus and myself have cosponsored the "Gulf of Mexico Economic and Environmental Protection Act of 1993." The Act would establish a Gulf of Mexico coalition which would work to increase public awareness regarding the immeasurable value of this resource and current conditions which threaten its aesthetic and economic value.

In recent years, the Gulf of Mexico has shown some serious deterioration of its environmental assets. We must take steps now to prevent irreparable damage.

For much too long the Gulf of Mexico has taken a back seat to the Chesapeake Bay and Great Lakes region when it comes to federal assistance. By cosponsoring this legislation, I'm only asking the federal government for fairness. Up until last year, the federal government was spending nine times more in the Chesapeake and Great Lakes than in the Gulf of Mexico.

But even though my colleagues and I on the Sunbelt Caucus were able to obtain additional funds to enhance the Gulf last year, legislation is still needed for the Gulf to regain the vitality it once enjoyed. Given our nation's dire fiscal situation, the Act would give the Gulf region the "biggest bang for the buck," not merely more research and studies without producing results.

With its 600,000 square miles, the Gulf of Mexico is 190 times larger than the Chesapeake Bay and seven times larger than the Great Lakes. It is a precious natural resource that benefits not only South Mississippi, but the entire nation. To damage this fragile ecosystem, would be detrimental to all.

A special message to the voters of ward 4 from Councilman John W. Wilkerson

My Dear Friends:

As we approach the second primary election for the City of Bay St. Louis to be held next Tuesday, May 18, 1993, I feel I must communicate with you directly regarding my candidacy. As you know, I have served as your councilman from Ward 4 for the past eight years. My service to you during that time has always been with you, first and foremost, in mind. I have had the distinct honor and privilege of being a part of, and working with, the present City Council and Mayor in helping to move our beautiful city ahead. I now ask that you give me another four years to complete the many tasks we began aimed at enhancing our economic development while protecting and preserving our quality of life.

I wish it were not so, but unfortunately the world of politics sometimes can have a negative side. I mention this only because of some of the half-truths and distortions regarding me that have been brought to my attention, and therefore must set the record straight with the FACTS:

- FACT: I did not recently have a massive heart attack. Regardless of what you may have heard, my health is not in question and I have the strength, stamina, and absolute ability to serve as your councilman for another four years, and probably more if you so choose;
- FACT: I have stood up in opposition with the people of Ward 4 when Camp Onward was being considered for re-zoning to accommodate a commercial venture in a residential neighborhood;
- FACT: I pride myself in being a positive and progressive thinker and will continue to run a clean and positive campaign;
- FACT: I have always, and will continue always, to give careful and intelligent consideration to every matter brought before the City Council;
- FACT: I moved to Bay St. Louis 35 years ago because I loved the quality lifestyle here. I never want to see that change;
- FACT: I have been associated with good government as your councilman for Ward 4 for the past eight years.

And now, a most important FACT: I need your vote on Tuesday, May 18, to continue serving you as we keep Bay St. Louis on the move.

During this past term you have seen much accomplished. You have seen a whopping 85% cut in city taxes, including car tag costs; your utility rates have been reduced three times; nearly 2000 new local jobs have been brought about to the area; we have purchased the new City Hall Annex and acquired the train depot building and 4½ acres of property; we have made major drainage improvements; and one of the most exciting things we have done is create a climate for residential and commercial re-investment in Bay St. Louis, ALL THIS WITHOUT ANY LONG-TERM DEBT. These are some, and by no means all, of the accomplishments I have worked with in order to assure the citizens of Ward 4 a better and more fulfilling life.

In closing, may I thank you for allowing me to serve for the past eight years, and ask that you give me the opportunity once again. I need your vote on May 18, to complete the job we've begun!

With warmest regards,

John W. Wilkerson

Alzheimer's Assn. plans informative series at HMC

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association announces a series of meetings for friends and families of Alzheimer patients at Hancock Medical Center, 149 Drinkwater Road, Bay St. Louis.

May 24 — Meeting Daily Challenges: Life can be made simpler for both the patient and caregiver through a step-by-step approach to performing daily tasks, including meals, dressing and activities.

A review of home safety strategies will be included.

June 7 — Communicating: Ways of helping the patient understand others, techniques for being in touch with the patient, and dealing with emotional and behavioral changes in people with Alzheimer's disease will be discussed.

June 14 — Caring for the Caregiver: The person who provides care for a person with Alzheimer's disease is often called the "second victim" because of the stress of caregiving. Planning for the future and coping with the sadness of watching a loved one fade away will be discussed.

All meetings will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Attendees will receive study guides and orientation packets; there is no charge for the program.

For further information, contact the chapter office at 867-6251.

Businesses sought for summer youth employment co-op program

Local businesses are needed to participate in a summer employment program designed to assist youths.

Sponsor Casino Magic will pay businesses half the salary of high school and college students they hire who are accepted into the program.

Magie's AYSE Program (Assisting Youth with Summer Employment), spearheaded by a group of concerned citizens, encourages businesses to hire high school and college students to promote on-the-job training and work familiarization opportunities for the summer months of June, July and August.

Applications were received from 84 interested students by the May 1 deadline.

Twelve businesses have committed to the project. The deadline for business to join is May chairman Eric Labat.

Casino Magic allotted for 50 students to participate in the project. Businesses will be reimbursed fifty percent of the salary amount paid to AYSE youth employees at the end of the work period.

Students are screened and selected by a four-member committee comprised of local educators and business people on the basis of dedication to class work and the ability to perform under supervision.

For more information on how to get involved with the project, contact Labat at (H)466-4976 or (W)688-4389 or Tina Williams at 467-7629.

28. "This is an effort to give these students some work ethics for later on in life," said project

Increased use necessitates larger book receptacle

Increased library use at the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis has necessitated the installation of a large-capacity outside book return.

Last year more than 97,000 items were returned to the main branch. Approximately 35 percent were deposited in the outside return.

The new return is located behind the library on Uman Avenue and can be used 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The old return, donated in 1975 by the Bay St. Louis-Waveland Rotary Club is being refurbished and will be relocated for additional book return capacity.

Story hour titles told

"Disney" will be the theme for this week's children's story hour Wednesday, May 19 at 10:30 a.m. at the City-County Public Library in Bay St. Louis.

Winnie the Pooh, Friends to Find and Lady and the Tramp are books to be featured. Children will see a receive a Mickey Mouse coloring sheet and play games.

"Rocks" will be the theme at the Waveland Library Friday, May 21 at 10:30 a.m.

The Hill and the Rock and What's Good for a Three-Year-Old are books to be read. Children will receive color sheets and should bring a rock to paint.

"Beartivities" will be the theme at the Kiln Library Friday, May 21 at 10:30 a.m.

Little Bear's Trousers and The Berenstain Bears Go To Camp are books to be read, and children will color a dot-to-dot bear and play games.

These are the last story hour programs until September. Weekly story hours are held at the City-County Public Library and the Waveland Library from September through May.

The Kiln Library hosts story time the third Friday of each month at 10:30 a.m., which lasts approximately 30 minutes, and refreshments will be served.

Programs and activities are designed for pre-school-age children three to five years old who are not part of a nursery or pre-school group.

For individual branch story time information, contact Myra Haynes at the City-County Library at 467-5282, Evelyn Necaize, Waveland, 467-9240, or Sandra Ladner, Kiln, 255-1724.

Scholarship

Hospital Week

HMC celebrates with contests, cookout

A week of festivities were hosted for Hancock Medical Center employees in honor of National Hospital Week, May 9-15.

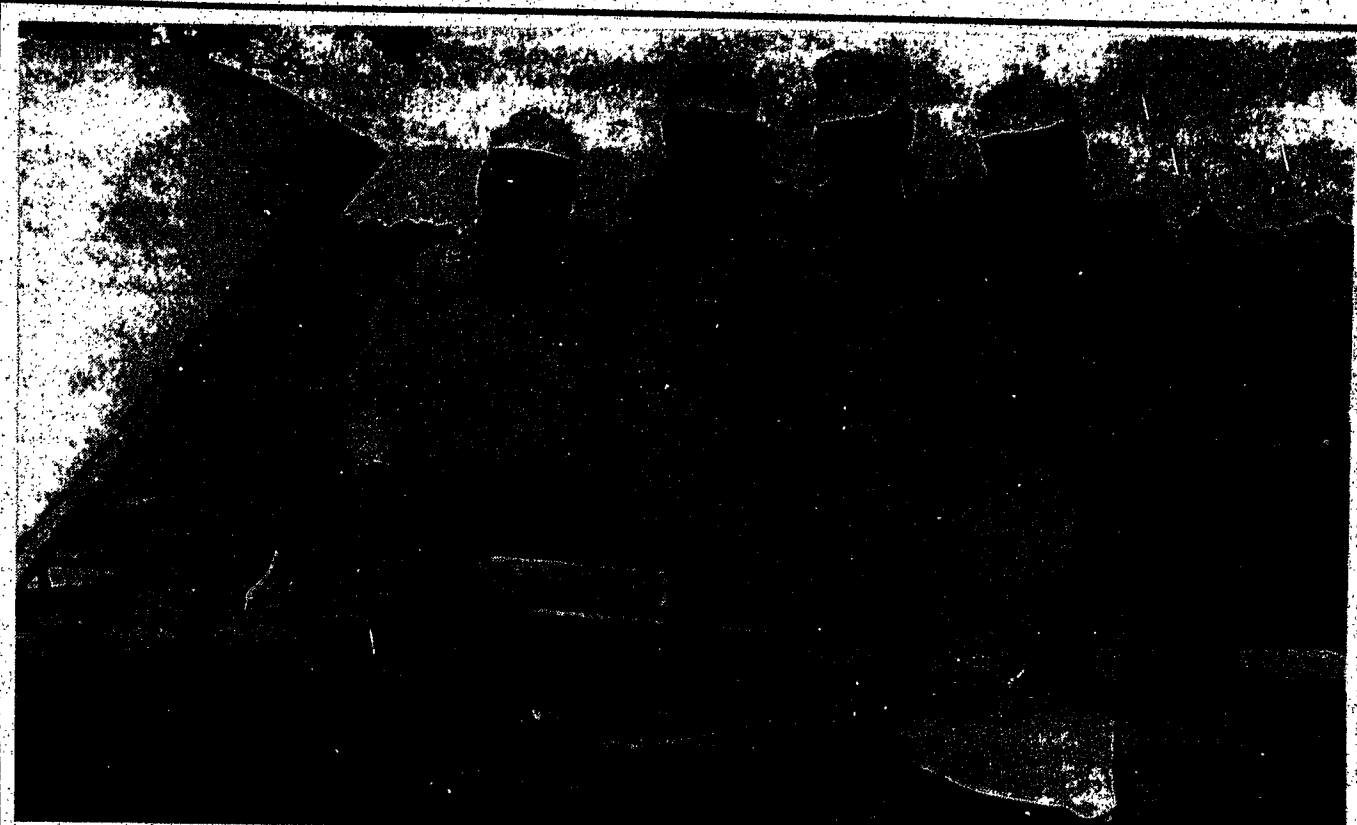

On Sunday, a pizza party was held for weekend shift workers. Department managers cooked and served breakfast to the employees and visitors on Monday. A sundae party was held Tuesday night for the night shift.

On Wednesday there was an employee baby photo contest. The employee who identified the most baby pictures of employees received a picture frame. Christine Field, RN and ER, identified all 20 pictures and won the prize.

"The committees have worked so hard to put this week together, and everyone has cooperated so well to make this the biggest hospital week we've ever had," said Audrey Dunn, director of human resources and marketing.

An employee appreciation cookout was held Thursday in which department managers and members of the hospital board of trustees cooked and served food.

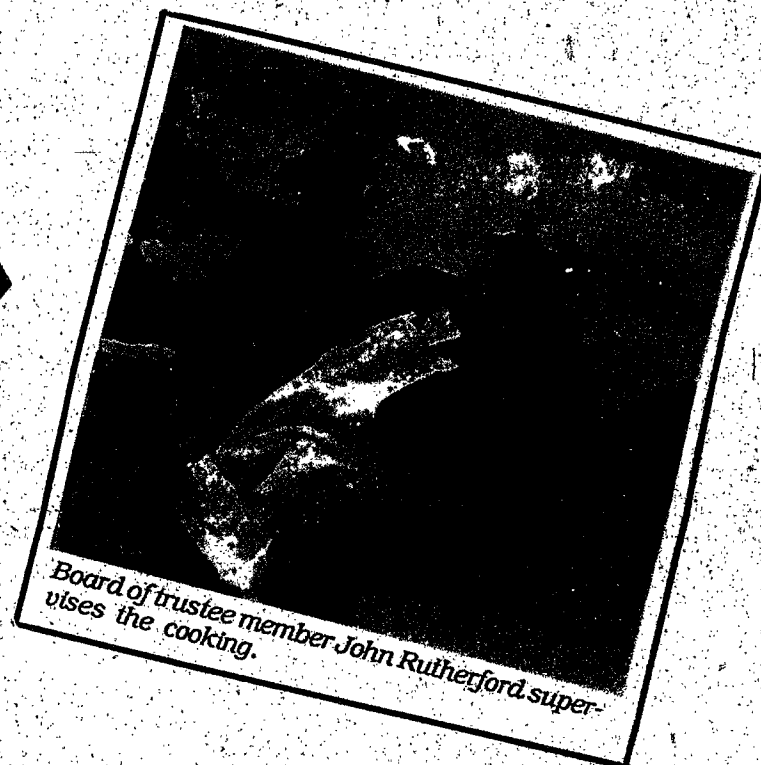

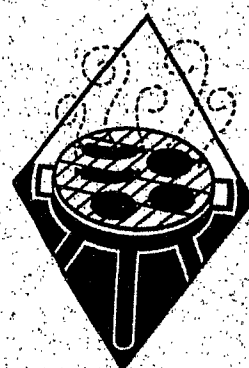

The hospital sponsored a poster contest for first, second and third grade students from area schools, with the theme of "Partners for a Healthy America."

Chairman of the board of trustees Charles R. Johnson, director of Environmental Services Glen Estapa, administrator Don Henderson and controller Larry Carver serve as chefs for the employee cookout.

Director of Cardio Pulmonary Terry Kolem and director of Data Processing Ezell Butler display the baby contest pictures.

Board of trustee member John Rutherford super-slices the cooking.

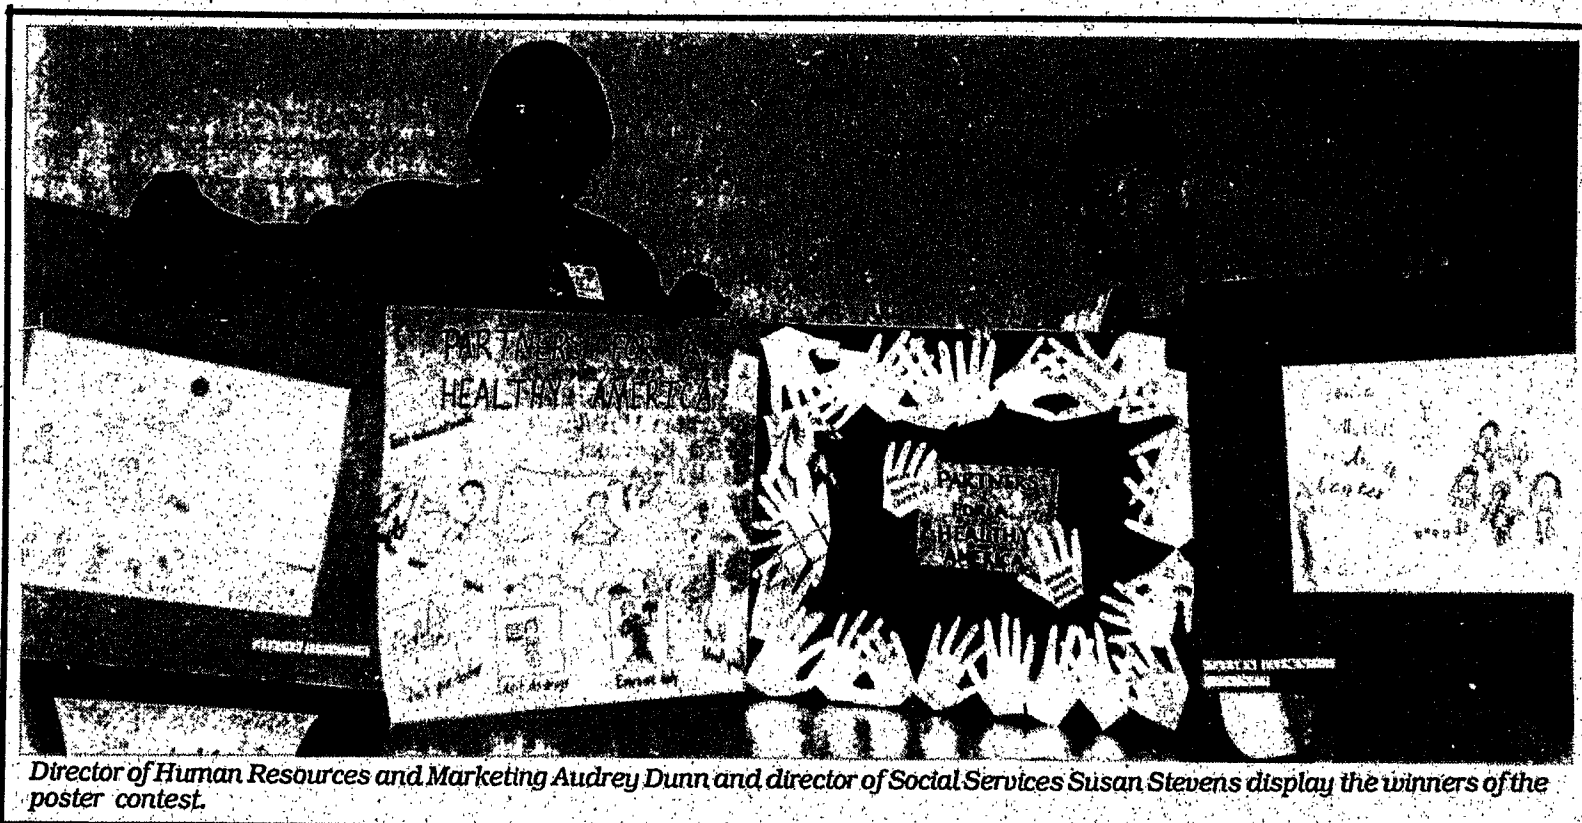

Poster winners were Mrs. Goscinski's first grade class at Gulfview Elementary, Janet Freeman's first grade class at Waveland Elementary, Mrs. Pearce's second grade class at Waveland Elementary and Mrs. Herren's third grade class at Gulfview Elementary.

The hospital wrapped up the week with their annual health fair on Saturday on the hospital grounds.

Special services offered free to the public included blood sugar testing, vision screening, blood pressure checks, health care literature and more.

Children were entertained with face painting, finger printing, a teddy bear clinic and a visit by McGruff. Healthy cooking was also featured.

ARTIN' ABOUT

POETS WANTED

Southern Poetry Association, founded in 1987 by Pass Christian resident Mildred Klyce, offers support to fledgling writers on the Gulf Coast and beyond.

The Post's Voice is published to keep SPA members active in their writing. The organization works with other literary groups and is approved by the Mississippi State Arts Commission.

For additional information and a free Post's Voice, send three 29 cent stamps to SPA/ Writers Info, P.O. Box 524, Pass Christian, MS 39571.

Special artists

The Very Special Arts traveling exhibit is on display at the Mississippi Museum of Art/ Gulf Coast, 136 George Ohr St., Biloxi, in conjunction with Southern Women's Club's "Southern Art Presentation '93." The fund-raising event benefits Very Special Arts.

The exhibit is a collection of work done by Mississippi children, teens and adults with disabilities. The works are collected throughout the state at regional festivals for inclusion in the traveling exhibit.

For more information call Alva Peden at 863-5200 or MMA/GC at 374-5547.

Art competition

The Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council announces a Collegiate Art Competition at the Biloxi Music and Arts Festival June 12 and 13 at the Town Green in Biloxi.

Any full-time art student is eligible from Mississippi Gulf Coast Community Colleges (Gautier Campus, Jefferson Davis Campus, Perkinston Campus), William Carey College, University of Southern Mississippi or Pearl River Junior College.

The medium may be oil, watercolor, pastel, pen, ink, collage, acrylic or mixed.

There are no specifications on size. Entry fee is $5.

The competition is juried, and the prize is a minimum of $500.

To enter call the Arts Council at 864-4000. Entry forms must be submitted by May 14 with slides and $5 to the GGCA, P.O. Box 99, Gulfport, Miss. 39502.

Entry forms may be picked up in the Art Departments of the colleges listed.

Damn Yankees set

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre presents Damn Yankees on May 21 and 22 at 8:15 and a matinee on May 23 at 2:35.

The play is directed by Donna Hutchings and musical director Mary Howard.

Lead characters include Sandra Compton as Mary, Boyd, Roy, Audman as Joe, Applegate, Jody Knight as Joe, Hardy and Joe.

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Hancock Women's Club

The Hancock Women's Club held its May luncheon meeting at Nick's House of Catfish in Waveland on May 13 with Lorraine Townsend presiding.

Three new members were accepted into the club: Marge Lange, Amelia Killeen and Dorothy Kingsmill. Caroline Taylor was present as a guest.

Since the VFW Hall can no longer be made available within the time frame of our meetings and Fun and Games Day, a discussion followed as to our future plans. The membership voted to temporarily suspend game day until a new location for it could be found.

It further voted to have all meetings as luncheons, and the Galley at the Waveland Resort Inn was selected for the June meeting place, which will be June 9, and for further meetings after the usual summer recess of July and August.

Thursday, May 20 at 10:30 a.m. has been set for the dedication of a tree recently planted at the walking track on the hospital grounds in Bay St. Louis to members and spouses who died during the past year. They include Catherine Hamilton, Dolores Jackson and Ruth Gallagher, and Marian Rapp's husband Gustave, as well as Shirley Jones' husband Thomas, (also known as Roy).

A committee will purchase this week sacks and blankets for babies born at Hancock Medical Center whose mothers cannot provide such necessities upon their departure from the hospital.

Joan Breeden was winner of the door prize.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139

The monthly meeting of Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 was Monday, May 10 at the Legion home.

President Susan Piazza opened the meeting; color-bearers Roslyn Weathers and Judy Gavney advanced the colors; and chaplain Ursula Favre read the opening prayers.

Secretary Jeannette Ladner and treasurer Bobbye Tomlinson gave their reports.

Second vice president Shirley Clemons told of the success of the bonco party held May 5. Favre told of sending 'get-well' and sympathy cards to ailing and bereaved members.

Piazza requested the members to gather at the charter in memory of Anne Rose Franky, who passed away during the week. The nominating committee reported on the new slate of officers to be elected at the June meeting. All members are urged to attend.

Flags will be placed at local cemeteries at the gravesites of our local veterans, and services will be conducted at the Clement R. Bontemps Memorial at 10 a.m. Monday, May 31, followed by services at Post Everlasting in front of the Legion home.

Miramar Lodge Nursing Home invited auxiliary ladies to entertain the residents at an 'ice cream and cake' social. Lena Mae Oustalet played the piano while Roslyn Weathers led the singing.

Parents Without Partners

Any single person is eligible to join Parents Without Partners Chapter 1120, an organization of divorced, widowed, legally separated or never married parents. The group meets every Thursday, 7:30 p.m. at the Gaston Hewes Recreation Center, 17th Street, Gulfport (off Hwy. 49).

For more information, call 896-4852.

Hancock County Historical Society

The monthly meeting of the Hancock County Historical Society will be at the Waveland Resort Inn at noon on Thursday, May 20.

Speaker will be Elbert R. Hilliard, historian, educator and author of numerous books and articles on Mississippi history.

For reservations, call 467-8201.

Elks convention held

The Mississippi State Elks Association held its annual convention in Corinth, Miss., on April 29-May 1. Representing the Bay-Waveland Elks Lodge #2776 were, front row from left, Bob Hellmers, Faye Hellmers, Charlotte Mauffray, Donald Mauffray and Sue Woodrick; back row, Conrad Mauffray, Jeanne Fahrenholt, Frances Fahrenholt and Gene Woodrick. The Bay-Waveland Elks meet every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Disabled American Veterans Hall on Union Street in Bay St. Louis.

Artin'

Lola.

Reservations are suggested for the play and can be made by calling 467-2472.

Kids ArtShop

Two sessions of summer art camp, Kids ArtShop '93, will be held in June and August at the Mississippi Museum of Art/Gulf Coast in Biloxi.

Artist/instructor Lee Ann Eyre of Biloxi will offer weaving with found objects, as well as lessons in hand-built pottery and basics of drawing and painting.

The sessions are June 15-17 and August 10-12 from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. each day.

Camp is open to children ages 6-11. Pre-registration is required by June 1. Cost is $25 per session, plus $5 for supplies. For information, call MMA at 374-5547.

Exhibits

May exhibits at Hillyer House include "Coastal Bayous" watercolors by Coast artist Barbara Wing; "Pastel" glaze pottery by Bill Campbell of Pa.; "Leaves" sculptured jewelry in sterling and brass and copper by Jane Campbell of Pa.

Hillyer House is located at 207 E. Scenic Drive in Pass Christian.

Submissions to Artin' About should be sent to The Sea Coast Echo, P.O. Box 2009, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520. Notices will be edited and published on a space-available basis.

Through the Great Book

You may read through the Bible any number of times, but until it goes "through" you,
your life will not be changed.
"Get Involved," make a new beginning.

Worship Him in truth and in spirit this week at your house of worship.
